FOUR COMMUNITY LEADERS VOLUNTEER FOR THE PREBLE STREET BOARD OF DIRECTORS

PORTLAND, ME — Preble Street, a human service agency with 13 programs operating throughout the state of Maine, has appointed four new volunteer members to its Board of Directors.

The new members began their three year terms this summer:

- Reuben Addo Ph.D., MSSA, Assistant Professor of Social Work, USM
- Chip Leighton, Vice President of Strategy and Planning, Hannaford Supermarkets
- Jay Tansey, Executive Director, Covetrus and Black Point Group
- Lori Whynot, Senior Vice President, Benefit Operations, Unum,

“We’re thrilled to welcome this group of community leaders with such a large cross-section of expertise to our agency,” said Executive Director Mark Swann. “They approach their service on the Board of Directors with the same love and compassion as every staff person at Preble Street, and we’re fortunate to have their unique skills at the table as we continue to grow and plan for the exciting future of the organization.”
